

COVID-19 (Coronavirus) Statement

March 13, 2020 – Presently, the risk of COVID-19 in British Columbia is determined to be low. The District of Stewart has engaged in planning activities to be proactive in minimizing risk, as well as managing and mitigating any potential COVID-19 impacts in our facilities and operations.

The District will continue to closely monitor the situation, engage in proactive prevention measures, as well as liaise with other agencies, organizations, and communities.

If you have questions about COVID-19, please refer to:

Northern Health (www.northernhealth.ca)
HealthLink BC (www.healthlinkbc.ca)
BC Center for Disease Control (www.bccdc.ca)
Health Canada (www.canada.ca)
World Health Organization (www.who.int)

If you think you may have come into contact with COVID-19 or are showing symptoms, please do not go to your healthcare provider; instead CALL 8-1-1 FOR ADVICE.

District services remain unaffected at this time.